BALDWIN NOT TO RESIGN AT ONCE

Though He Will Probably Do So When He Finds It Impossible to Run Commons With Minority—Labor Party Next in Line for Power.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Dec. 8.—The possibility of a Labor government faced Great Britain today for the first time in history as a result of the outcome of the general election. The Tory majority in the House of Commons has been turned into a minority while the Labor party will be the second strongest.

Tory headquarters announced that the Tory cabinet would attempt to remain in power and to meet the new parliament when it convenes next month. Tory leaders said they did not expect Premier Baldwin to resign at once, although his resignation may be handed to King George later on.

Tory headquarters announced that the meeting of the new parliament, scheduled for January 8, may be postponed. A statement was issued saying there is positively no possibility of a Tory-Liberal coalition government. It was pointed out that, if Tories are unable to carry on the government "it is logical to expect King George will summon Ramsay MacDonald, head of the Labor party, to form a new government."

The deadlock has been accentuated by announcement from Labor headquarters that a coalition of Liberals and Laborites is impossible. Premier Baldwin conferred with Lord Chancellor Cave on the legal aspects of the situation. Later he consulted Lord Stamfordham, secretary to King George.

It was considered likely that the premier would have an audience with King George later in the day and then announce his future course at a meeting of the Tory party early next week.

Leaders of all parties were in London today conferring. Some contingencies were still unheeded to-day, but it is estimated that the conservatives would hold about 260 seats in Commons while the Laborites will have about 190 and the Liberals 150. There will be about 10 independents.

The new house will have eight women members, the largest number in its history.

THREE KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTOMOBILE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Rochester, Dec. 8.—Three young men, two of whom were brothers, all residents of this city, were killed shortly before midnight last night, when their automobile was struck at the Hague street crossing of New York Central by the New York Express east bound and traveling at a speed estimated at sixty miles an hour.

They are:
Edward Evans, 22 years old, of 18 Shelter street.

Russell Bader, 21 years old 3635 Lake avenue.

Raymond Bader, 22 years old, his brother, same address.

The light roadster in which the men were riding, was dragged more than four blocks beyond the crossing before the train was brought to a stop. The bodies of the two men were found impaled on the cowcatcher of the train, while the third lay dead beside the tracks about 100 yards beyond the spot where the automobile was struck.

According to Andrew Gerst watchman at the crossing the men failed to heed his warning to stop.

FARMERS SWINDLED BY NEW YORK EGG "DEALERS."

That New York city is honeycombed with unreliable egg dealers who use fictitious names, under which they seek shipments from unsuspecting producers, is the report which comes from the New York office of the state department of farms and markets.

If such unscrupulous concerns are to be prevented from doing business in New York city, it can only be accomplished through the cooperation of farmers and shippers with the department of farms and markets.

They should write for a list of licensed dealers and where the shipper is determined to send his products to those not included in the list, he would do well to write to the New York city office, department of farms and markets, 53 Park Place, and make an inquiry as to the reliability of the firm or dealer.

CALLES QUIT TO HALT MEXICAN WAR

Will Not Seek Presidency—Preparations Speeded Up To Crush Rebellion.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Mexico City, Dec. 8.—Alarmed over the effect his candidacy for the presidency of Mexico was having throughout the nation, General P. Elias Calles today announced his withdrawal from the race.

General Guadalupe Sanchez, leader of the revolt against President Obregon, had announced that the movement arose from "President Obregon's efforts to make General Calles his successor in the presidency." The rebels supported Adolfo de La Huerta, another presidential candidate.

In announcing his withdrawal General Calles said:

"I am a patriot from first to last." General Calles was in conference with President Obregon for some hours before he proclaimed his intention to quit the presidential contest. His decision came as a great surprise.

According to well informed circles, General Calles may take the field against the rebels. It was reported that President Obregon might put him in command of all the federal forces.

Active preparations to put down the revolt are still in progress. Airplanes will be utilized. If captured, the ringleaders will be summarily punished.

CLEARWATER WARNS OF IMMIGRATION DANGERS

President of St. Nicholas Society Cites Iliterate Southern Europeans.

Speaking at the St. Nicholas Society's eighty-eighth annual dinner in the Hotel Biltmore, New York city, Thursday night, Alphonso T. Clearwater, the president, warned against the danger of large immigration from southern Europe of illiterates and persons without the necessary background of preparation for self-government.

Judge Clearwater's views on illiterate and diseased immigration were commended by the New York Herald and New York Times.

Almet F. Jenks spoke against the high income tax, the war taxes and the personal taxes, which would be eliminated by Secretary Mellon's taxation plan. He said that the problem of the Ku Klux Klan and other matters of present agitation are ephemeral blots on the Statue of Liberty which will soon disappear.

Major-General Peter F. Traub and Rear-Admiral Charles P. Dunckert discussed the problems of national defense. Gen. Traub urged adoption of President Coolidge's attitude that the United States will jeopardize its national honor if it does not maintain adequate national defense.

Jonkheer A. C. D. De Graff, minister from the Netherlands, discussed the principles of government which the United States adopted from the Netherlands in writing the Constitution.

Others at the speakers' table were John A. Weekes, president of the New York Historical Society; William J. Schieffelin, president-general of the Huguenot Society of America; DeWitt Van Buskirk, president of the Holland Society of New York; Dr. Samuel M. Evans, president of St. David's Society; John Vipond Davies, president of St. George's Society; Dr. William S. Thomas, secretary of the New York Society of Cincinnati; Alexander B. SEVEN HURT WHEN MOLYBDEUM METAL EXPLODES

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Newcastle, Pa., Dec. 8.—Two are dying of burns, and five other men were less seriously injured when an explosion of molten metal wrecked a portion of the plant of the National Radiator Company here last evening.

Five of the injured were picked up by the force of the blast and blown through the cupola of the plant, several feet away.

Edward Stippe and Joseph Lefe were unconscious at the hospital this morning. They were badly burned about the body that physicians entertain little hope for their recovery. Investigation is reported to have disclosed that vent holes in the cupola had become clogged, permitting no outlet for the gas arising from the molten metal. One side of the foundry was blown away and much machinery destroyed.

CONGRESS ALREADY IN A TURMOIL

President's Opposition to Bonus Starts Fight to Enact It Over His Veto—Passage at First Is Conceded—Senate to Have Final Say.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Dec. 8.—Battle lines were being drawn in congress today for what promises to be the most spectacular legislative clash of the session, to fight to enact a soldiers' bonus bill over the veto of President Coolidge.

Rather than placating congress, the president's unequivocal opposition to the bonus, stated so briefly and tersely in his message, has thrown Capitol Hill into a veritable turmoil.

The bluntness of the president's dismissal of the bonus has left administration leaders at a loss for a quagmire. Frankly, they do not know where to turn for advice, or what definite plans to pursue.

That congress will pass a bonus, patterned substantially after the measure vetoed by the late President Harding, is conceded by the most bitter enemies of the bill.

The house is expected to swing into action upon the measure shortly, and send it over to the senate with a substantial majority.

Sufficient votes have been pledged in the senate to pass the bonus. When it goes to the White House, President Coolidge will send it back to the congress marked "rejected."

Unless all present line-ups are knocked galley-west, the house will override the veto.

This series of events places squarely up to the senate the question of repudiating or approving one of Mr. Coolidge's most important stands in national legislation.

Ever since the first private information came from the White House that President Coolidge would oppose a bonus, American Legion officials have been busier than bees in the senate. Today these officers claimed that at least seven more than the required two-thirds to override the veto have been definitely pledged. The heaviest strength is claimed among Democrats, of whom forty are said to be ready to go against the president. If Legion spokesmen are correct, only 27 votes are needed from the Republican side to defeat the executive rejection.

WIFE DECEIVED HIM SAYS BANKER HARRIS

Lived For Years With Rayner—Asserts He's Poor.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Dec. 8.—Beverly D. Harris, wealthy 64 year old former New York banker, will go into court here next week and reveal "the entire past" of his 27 year old wife, Elaine Lee Harris, southern beauty, he said in an interview today.

Harris, who is suing for annulment of his marriage, said he would prove that Eli Rayner, of Memphis, "lived openly with her at 161 Madison avenue, Memphis, Tenn., for years." Mrs. Harris claims Rayner is her father.

The former banker admitted he had been completely disillusioned by his matrimonial experience.

"A man should never marry a woman half his age—viewpoints of life are too widely separated," he said.

Harris denied he had ever branded her birth. "She alone questioned her birth," he said. "She alone says she is a love child. It is my contention she is the legitimate daughter of S. C. Lee of Clarkville, Tenn."

Harris like his wife, has been in seclusion for months. He has been making his home with friends on Long Island.

"Mrs. Harris calls me a multi-millionaire. The truth of the matter is I am almost a pauper—out of work and can't find a job because of the charges that have been made against me," Harris confided.

He denied that he had ordered his wife to be "the best dressed woman in New York," and sanctioned clothing bills of $1,500 a week, in order that she might be a "show window in his business drawing room, attracting his wealthy friends."

That was what she charged. "I am seeking an annulment of our marriage because I was deceived as to my wife's past," Harris explained. "Had she told me of her life she led when she was a telephone girl in Memphis, Tenn., and lived with Rayner, I might have forgiven her. Learning the truth broke my heart."

Harris will be represented in court by Caruthers Ewing, widely known southern lawyer and politician. Harris said he would personally take the stand and testify if permitted to do so by the court.

HELPED SELVES TO AUTOMOBILES

Friday three stolen automobiles were reported to the police department and all three cars were found later abandoned.

Mr. Shapiro of lower Hasbrouck avenue left his Chevrolet touring car parked in front of Sam Stone's place on lower Broadway. It was found several hours later in front of the Kingston City Hospital.

Herman Rafalowsky of central Broadway parked his Nash car near the Y. M. C. A. shortly after 4 o'clock and later found it missing. The theft was investigated by Sergeant Phinney who a few hours later found the car parked in almost the identical spot it was stolen from.

Mr. Jocelyn of 650 Broadway reported his Columbia car stolen. It was also found later by the police.

All three thefts look like the work of a certain gang of young men who make a practice of helping themselves to some one's auto and using it for a joy ride.

POLICE CHECK UP SCHATSKY'S STORY OF PICKELNY MURDER

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Dec. 8.—Police today were investigating a reported confession by Nathan Schatsky that he kidnapped and killed Irving Pickelny, five, in a cellar here last October 26. They believe that Schatsky, though of weak mentality, told the truth.

Schatsky, closely guarded, is under observation at Bellevue hospital. He will be charged with murder, it was said.

Two women in an East Side tenement house, not far from that in which the Pickelny boy lived, saw by the hand, it is alleged. East side women have watched all children at play since the Pickelny tragedy. Police found Schatsky on a roof, with the boy.

"Do you want me on account of the Pickelny boy?" he is said to have asked.

MAGNUS TO FIGHT KELLOGG'S CONFIRMATION

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Dec. 8.—A one man war loomed on the congressional horizon today when Senator Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor, of Minnesota, gave warning he will fight sentiment of former Senator Frank R. Kellogg, as ambassador to Great Britain.

"I will not stand by the appointment of Kellogg," Johnson told International News Service. "I do not believe ex-Senator Kellogg represents the ideas of the progressive people of America and therefore I will oppose his confirmation by the senate."

Johnson may be alone in his fight, for even his colleague, Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, of Minnesota, said he was undecided about opposing Kellogg's appointment.

CHILDREN SOLICITING MONEY BECOMING NUISANCE

Children between the ages of six and fourteen years have engaged in a very annoying practice lately in visiting homes throughout the city at all hours of the day and as late as ten o'clock at night, seeking money for charities on something or another, asking for votes or selling small articles.

A band of these children proved a nuisance this week especially on central Broadway when at ten o'clock at night people were aroused from their beds or inconvenienced in some manner to answer the door.

In some cases when the door was answered the children would be seen running down the street. Children acting in this manner are liable to arrest and the police are on the lookout for them, as many complaints have been made recently to the authorities.

SANTA CLAUS HERE TAKING ORDERS

Fat and Jolly Gentleman Hops Off West Shore Train and Goes to Headquarters at R-G-R Store—Great Excitement Among the "Gimme-Age" Populace.

Santa Claus, happy, fat and rosy in spite of the long hours which he has been putting in at the toy factory somewhere in the frozen north, arrived in town today on the 11:15 train from some unknown place and was greeted by a large mob of excited children. To the children who greeted him as he stepped from the train special balloons were presented and then through the crowd of children he made his way to the Rose-Gorman-Rose store where he will make his headquarters every afternoon from 2 o'clock.

Santa Claus said he had been a very busy man getting together a collection of all kinds of toys for the good boys and girls and his toy factory had been taxed to capacity but he will experience a much more busy time from now until Christmas in finding out what the boys and girls of Kingston would like to find in their stockings on Christmas morning. Immediately upon his arrival he was swamped with requests from children and undoubtedly will be kept busy inquiring of children, who are accompanied by their parents, what they wish him to bring on Christmas morning.

All children accompanied by their parents will be given an opportunity to interview Santa Claus at the R-G-R store every afternoon after 2 o'clock and tell him personally what particular toy they most desire.

ITALY PLANS TO BE SECOND IN AIR IN YEAR

Copyright, 1923, by International News Service.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Rome, Dec. 8.—With the completion of 4,500 airplanes and seaplanes by next June, Italy, under the energetic guidance of Premier Mussolini, hopes to become the second air power in Europe.

That is the program of the Italian Fascist government today. If it is carried to a successful conclusion only France will be more powerful in the air than Italy six months hence.

Italy is strengthening her navy in proportion. The naval program calls for two 10,000 ton light cruisers, twenty destroyers, twenty submarines and one seaplane carrier.

The project of setting up an air force strong enough to compete with any other in Europe was one of the first tasks to which the Fascist government applied itself after coming into power.

17,000 ANTHRACITE MINERS ON STRIKE

Twenty Thousand More Threaten to Quit by Monday—General Tie-up Not Likely.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Dec. 8.—Seventeen thousand miners employed in 13 collieries of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, struck today despite efforts of union leaders to prevent a walkout. Possibilities of the strike spreading throughout the district, completely tying up the industry, were considered remote by both union leaders and company officials.

The strike came after an issue on which a strike vote had been taken earlier in the week was settled. The workers had demanded that the company furnish rate sheets at each colliery but after officials agreed to this, they discharged the vice-president of the General Grievance Committee and four other men for refusal to comply with the decision of the 1920 coal award that notice must be posted at each shaft specifying the amount of tipping for each car of coal. Company officials claimed the tipping was below standard.

Workers today declared they would remain idle until the men are reinstated.

Seranton, Pa., Dec. 8.—The ranks of the 17,000 striking mine workers of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company in the Moosic-Pittston district will be increased to 37,000 by Monday unless a speedy adjustment is made of grievances of employees of the Hudson Coal Company, heads of the mine workers' union indicated here today.

A meeting of the Hudson employees will be held here tonight and it was said a strike vote would result unless the fifteen pending grievances were settled.

Whether Farinelli was named, police would not reveal. He has denied all knowledge of the slaying and of the theft of $43,900 taken from the messengers.

CHRISTMAS AT THE HOSPITAL

As has happened for so many years, Mrs. C. N. Reed, 43 Crown street, will take charge of the Christmas entertainment and gifts for the Tuberculosis Hospital. While the entertainment and distribution of gifts will not occur until after Christmas day, Mrs. Reed has found in the past that gifts may be purchased to greater advantage before Christmas, so that contributions of money may be sent to her as soon as convenient now. There will be about twenty patients at the hospital for Christmas, among them a little ten year old girl. As she is a bed patient, toys and books and such things as will afford amusement and pleasure will be particularly acceptable. Those who prefer to send their own gifts may leave them at Mrs. Reed's residence if they choose and if they will make them, and all will be taken up at the one time. Announcement will very shortly be made as to which church will, through its young people, give the entertainment.

How she could brew!

Automobile Defined.

The automobile is a large iron and rubber contrivance for transforming gasoline into speed, luxury, excitement and obituaries. It consists of a handsome leather upholstered carriage body mounted on fat rubber-tired wheels and containing a gizzard full of ailments. It can run over 10,000 miles and 100 people. It can transport seven people from the front porch to the police station, the bankruptcy court, or the golden gates in less time than any other method extant.

THE HAT FOR IMMEDIATE NEEDS

By Eleanor Gunn.

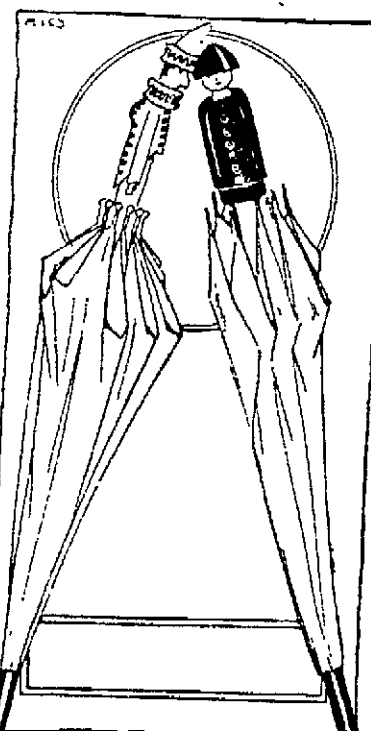

Fashion frequently is in a contradictory mood. She follows caprice and whim and is seemingly illogical. Take the matter of hats for instance. If one moves in an orbit around which teas and matinees and formal town life revolves, one is apt to be so impressed by the fact that black is the approved head covering, that it is a distinct shock to find other circles, that black is drowned in a sea of color.

New York is the recognized style center, at least of America, if not of the world, and when Miss Manhattan donned her best hat to go to the Horse Show, for instance, it was black and nearly always of satin. But when Miss Smart Set from several cities came to the various stadiums and bowls to watch the football warriors, her choice in millinery would put the rainbow to shame, while her coat and furs were as colorful as her hat.

A black hat is always in impeccable taste, while a colored one depends largely on whether it is in harmony with the ensemble for its effect. In Paris, black and browns still rule. There are many who sponsor the black satin hat, and although it may seem out of season, it is at present the most approved among the elect. The reason for this is not difficult to ascertain—felt, once the darling of the gods of fashion, has become too universally accepted to be permitted to remain unchallenged.

Velvet was tried and while not found wanting, did not seem to fill the bill in New York, at any rate, so that satin was called upon to fill the breach and did so satisfactorily. Combinations in which felts play a part are being worn, and velvets especially in conjunction with fur, are both flattering and seasonable.

A great deal of silver is being used on our winter hats, and leather novelties with interesting appliques of fur have become formidable rivals to ribbon which, earlier in the season, was the most desired of trimming.

The little cloche sketched has a soft brim in tiers, and with just the suggestion of a ruffle. Satin is combined with felt in this instance.

Rather newer than the nails, daggers and arrows which pierce our crowns are small bands of brilliants which are placed across the crown at its base. This is a type of trimming favored for the hat made of double-

A hat may not be the easiest Christmas gift to buy nor the most appropriate to give, but there are things touching on and pertaining to hats which make delightful gifts, such as pins, and ornaments of all sorts, to say nothing of bandeaux and other headaddresses, veils and artificial flowers which may or may not be used as a corsage or shoulder decoration.

RECITAL AT PONCKHOCKIE CHURCH VERY PLEASING.

The pupils of Miss M. Helen Freer, assisted by Miss Francilla Anderson, reader, Lawrence: Jensen, violinist and Bentley Jensen, cornetist, gave a recital Friday evening to a large audience in the Ponckhockie Congregational Church. The pupils rendered selections on the piano were the Misses Mary and Katherine Naegle, Clara Cook and Frances Swart. They showed careful training and were well received. Miss Mae Dohnken, a vocal pupil, rendered three selections in a very artistic manner. Miss Anderson is known in this city as an elocutionist of unusual ability and each reading was encored. The Jensen brothers very pleasingly rendered a duet. Miss Freer favored the audience with several selections which revealed a voice of wide range and perfect control.

The Peninsular War.

The name peninsular is given to the war waged in Spain and Portugal in 1807-1814, between the armies of Napoleon I and the English and Spanish forces under the command of Sir Arthur Wellesley (afterward duke of Wellington). The war grew out of an attempt on the part of Napoleon to partition Portugal, and place his brother Joseph on the throne of Spain. The Spaniards rose in opposition and solicited aid from England, which was freely granted. After losing the great battles of Douro, Talavera, Salamanca and Vittoria, the French were driven out of the peninsula, and the rightful king, Ferdinand VII, was established on the Spanish throne.

Trinidad's Pitch Lake.

In the thirteen-odd million square miles of territory which comprise the British empire there are many remarkable phenomena, one of the most interesting being the pitch lake of Trinidad, in the West Indies. It is a natural reservoir of valuable mineral pitch, 1,100 acres in extent, from which 200,000 tons of asphalt are exported annually. About half way across Kenya colony, in British East Africa, is Magadi lake, a vast natural deposit of soda. The lake is ten miles long, two or three miles in width, and seen from the mountains that surround it, it has the appearance of an immense ruffled white sheet.

INFLUX OF BOYS AT Y. M. C. A. GYM

Basketball, Water Sports And Other Winter Athletics A Full Swing—Four Teams in Hi-Y League.

The closing of the football season has brought a big boom to activities for boys at the Y. M. C. A. The big indoor game is on, and the season is well under way, and basketball is the game for all virile youngster today. The men in charge of the boys' work at the Y. M. C. A. appreciate how much a boy likes this game and so have arranged several schedules for the members, which will give every boy a chance to make a team, instead of just a picked few.

The League for the members of the Hi-Y opens next Wednesday with four teams in the League. These teams are composed of the following men, who will meet in the very near future, select their captain and choose a name.

Team A. Stumpf, Cranston, Barnes, Schultz, Disch, Schoonmaker, Herling, Thompson and Leaverett.
Team B. Rose, Longyear, DuBois, Murphy, Cloonan, Bradley, Coe, A. Messinger.

Team C. Perry, Riseler, Clayton, Hyatt, Byrne, Whiston, Herzog, Tarrant.
Team D. Clark, Brown, Kelleher, Crow, Morris, Davenport, Safford, Lewis, Nesslage.

Games playing several rounds of basketball, these teams will contend against each other in water sports, as well as indoor baseball, hockey and track.

The employed boys group has been steadily increasing in membership until today there is always enough on the floor for two games of basketball each night. These boys have formed a league under the direction of Mr. Miller, assisted by Alton Roosa, George Bowers, Charles Bunce.

This committee has divided the employed boys' class up into two teams, putting the younger fellows in with the older boys. Each team will be again divided into an older boys' team and a younger boys' team. These teams will have their league for basketball, indoor baseball, as well as athletic and aquatic events.

The grade school class is being organized this week for their league and will soon be under way. There has been a suggestion made to organize a grade school basketball league. That will depend upon the boys. If they want it they can have it by asking.

The activities upstairs in the boys' rooms are going in good shape, for the boys are busy every day. The rumble of the bowling alley reminds one of the legend of Rip Van Winkle and how he bowed with the men of the mountains. The click of the billiard balls and the patter of the pool pongs are always to be heard. Besides this the magazines are never in the rack, they are too popular.

Starting with Monday and the Scout Meeting of Troop One, with the Employed Boys Brotherhood on Tuesday, Hi-Y on Wednesday, Leadership Training class on Thursday evening, and the big social on Friday and the special stunts of Saturday, the boys find the thing that appeals to them and line up with that group.

Mr. Hall is assisted in the Boys' Division by a loyal corps of helpers, who take charge of the games and office during the week. These are Charles Rand, Kenneth Williams, Wesley Hyatt, LeRoy Webber, Ivan Whitmore and Archie Ronk.

Fashion News Notes of Interest to All Women

Among fashionable boudoir accessories are a group of tiny French figures of painted wood. They hold handkerchief boxes, plush cushions and racks for scent bottles.

A monogram, elaborate in design and vivid in tint, is the thought of the moment for many a blouse. These monogrammed blouses are by no means confined to those sports for wear.

Earrings of the jagged, irregular sort are affected by those women who do not discard ear ornaments altogether. The more bizarre and barbaric, the more chic.

Tassels appear on hats, wraps and gowns in surprising profusion. The tassel is an expression of the Chinese trend, but these tassels are larger, longer and more ornate than any oriental headress ever knew.

After wavering for a while, amber has decided to remain in the mode. Carvelian and malachite are, perhaps, a bit more chic, but amber in all its forms and colorings remains a favorite.

Costume blouses today are frequently copies of mandarin coats. This enables them to display the fashionable Chinese colors and decorations and yet cling to the jacquette effect which remains so popular.

The brightly colored green and blue shoes which London bootmakers are trying to induce men to wear seem to have little effect on women. Some few women cling to gay shoes, but the browns and blacks and grays predominate.

Not the least effective accessory just now is the velvet scarf with which tricot and charmeen street frocks are provided. The scarf, in some dark, rich, contrasting color, is fastened at one hip, with the other end left free to be thrown around the neck.

Girlish Lines Are in Late Fashion Picture

All girlish lines are lines of beauty if only they are allowed to be natural enough, to show a plenty of their interesting contour. And that is an artistic fact which the designers have grasped most certainly for the season. No line of the figure is allowed to be interrupted. On the contrary, it is fettered to the utmost limits of its possibilities.

The sheath gown, the princess gown, the one-piece frock without a belt are good, accepted and honored in the styles that are being favored now. They are all primarily interested in the accompaniment of the natural figure rather than the adornment thereof. They are all keyed to carry out the natural gifts given by Providence and to help the figure's natural lines to do their utmost best.

We have learned to love the one-piece dress, no matter what its interpretation happens to be. We have learned to accept it naturally as our right of possession for each wardrobe in summer or winter. But now we are faced with an even simpler design in this manner than any to which we have been accustomed. Each line has been simplified, each angle perfected, each curve substantiated. And this season we can appear in frocks as simple as any that the Greeks ever assumed and, at the same time, entirely in harmony with the modern day and age.

There is only one primary demand for these new and simpler frocks of this season, and that is that they shall be made of materials with weaves and colors beyond reproach. Once you allow yourself to slump over into the class of cheaper and less beautiful fabrics the whole point of the design of your gown is lost forever. It must have weight. It must be handsome. It must express something so far as color is concerned, and then it can afford to get away with the simplest of lines and making.

CURRENT OFFERINGS AT THE THEATRES

Tom Mix in his new William Fox offering, "Soft Boiled" will be shown for the last time at the Keener Theatre tonight. "Soft Boiled" is somewhat different from other Mix attractions and is said to be one of the best ever screened.

The Kingston Follies will show for the last time this evening at the Kingston Opera House. The Follies will be given in connection with high class vaudeville and a feature picture "His Last Race." The Kingston Follies is made up of Kingston young men and ladies and during the week has been attracting large crowds.

Today at the Orpheum is the Fox picture "A California Romance" starring John Gilbert with much to recommend it. The story and direction are good. The acting is of a high standard and the photography is a delight to the eye. John Gilbert's portrayal of the gay cavalier who sings love songs on the guitar is well done. His sword fighting in the later scenes is also very entertaining. There are many thrills and a sharp exciting climax. Also a program of circuit acts. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday House Peters in "Don't Marry for Money." Also vaudeville.

A wife's discontent forms the background for one of the most striking film romances of the day, as told in "The Six Fifty," new Universal attraction playing at the Auditorium theatre, in which Renee Adoree plays the role of a farmer's bride whose longing for white lights and the gayeties of a city almost wreck a life's happiness.

NAVAL FLYERS TO SEEK NORTH POLE

Lieut. Comm. Robert A. Bartlett, The Roosevelt, (insert) Shenandoah

By direction of President Coolidge, the U. S. Navy Department is preparing to explore the North Pole next year from the air. Tests will be made to determine whether the Zeppelin "Shenandoah" or heavier-than-air machines will be used, but the odds favor the use of the Shenandoah. Lieutenant Commander Robert A. Bartlett (U. S. N. R.), chief aide to Admiral Peary when he discovered the Pole, has been called into active naval service to take charge of the expedition. The Roosevelt, which was used by the Peary expedition, will probably be used by the Government to carry materials to the base in the Arctic later in the year.

ONCE IN A LIFETIME.

Probably once in a lifetime people realize that taxes are a burden, and then they make some effort to reduce the weight of public assessments. It has been said that no candidate for office was ever elected or defeated on a tax issue alone, but there always is an exception. If the truth were known, there is reason to believe that Governor Smith's decreasing popularity is due more to Democratic extravagance than anything else. It will be remembered that the governor has been quoted as saying the people care nothing about economy.

Evidence that the people are just now vitally interested in taxes is offered by the recent proposal of Secretary Mellon. From the moment the proposition was made public the people jumped to the support of the recommendation as it promised to reduce the cost of living. Without any further argument, a reduction in taxes does mean a reduction in the cost of living, for taxes must be paid. At any rate, the people just now are up in arms for a reduction and this may be the once in a lifetime.

It may be remembered that former Governor Miller before taking the oath of office stated that while he knew economy was not a popular subject, the cost of government had mounted so high that something had to be done to reduce it, adding if it hadn't fallen to him it would have fallen to somebody else. A reduction, he said, was something which had to come, and he accomplished it by $22,000,000. The people just then did not appreciate what this meant, but since the election of Governor Smith and the increase of $23,000,000 in the cost of government they have come to realize that Governor Miller was correct.

The owner of the small home is now fully aware of what extravagance in government means, and the burden is also felt acutely by the rent payer, who is in reality the taxpayer. The rent payer and wage earner, who have been gouged almost to despair, are now giving some thought to the subject of taxes. This explains why the people are waiting to put New York state back in the Republican column and why they are determined to continue a Republican administration at Washington. Granting that taxes are a live subject only once in a lifetime, it would appear as if they were alive and kicking today, judging from the support Secretary Mellon's proposal is receiving.

THE NEW MYSTERIOUS FORCE.

The startling report is abroad that the Germans have secured control of a new and mysterious form of energy which recently forced eight French aeroplanes flying over Bavaria to descend and lie inert and helpless, but, strange to say, the French do not appear to be alarmed. In fact, La Liberté is quoted as saying that if the Germans have such an invention they must have stolen it from the French, who already count it among their possessions. The editor solemnly asserts that he himself saw one automobile after another brought to an involuntary standstill by the application of this force from a distance. With a view to a more complete and convincing test, the inventor invited the editor of La Liberté to stand on a balcony outside the laboratory and select among approaching cars those on which to make the experiment. "The first victim was a taxi, which as it came opposite the laboratory was brought to a sudden stop, no tinkering available to start it until the spell was broken. Another taxi and then a large truck were treated in the same fashion with the same result."

If both the French and the Germans have got it and they alone, other nations will quake in their boots as they move heaven and earth to discover and possess the precious secret. What if the proud British fleet should be brought to a helpless standstill in mid-ocean by means of a new and mysterious sort of "absent treatment" set in motion at Berlin or Paris? To be thus disarmed would involve unspeakable humiliations to be prevented at all costs. If the British wish to preserve their prestige and self-respect, they will either have to locate and harness the alleged new force without delay or become as prompt in the production

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.,

(Registered in Accordance With the Copyright Act.)

DO YOU GO TO THE MOVIES?

When you think of the movies of twenty years ago and of today you cannot help but realize the difference from nearly every standpoint.

I saw some pictures in a magazine lately showing some of the original stars in the very early productions. They looked rather crude to say the least.

However, the harmful thing about the early movies was the unsteadiness of the lighting. There was a constant "flickering" that had a very serious effect upon the eye and hence upon the brain.

As you know your whole enjoyment of the picture is in your mind or brain, and can only be placed there by those special organs—the eyes.

But this flickering has now been practically overcome, and there is thus less danger from that standpoint.

Also many theaters now have indirect lighting and there is no glare. Now as you are likely to go from time to time, perhaps one or two suggestions may be of help.

If you can choose your own seat, try and get as near the center of the theater as possible.

Fortunately in most theaters there is a platform and an orchestra pit, and you are not too near the screen.

Should you get into a small theater, try and sit near the back. Closer than twenty feet from the screen is hard on the eyes. In fact the further back you sit the better.

One of the best things about it all, however, is that many of the theaters now have other features than the pictures, and thus the eyes get a chance to rest.

You see when you get absorbed in a picture your eyes are practically staring all the time as you follow the action of the story.

This constant holding of the eyes at the one focus tires the muscles holding the eyeball. The nerves likewise tire, and the brain takes part in the general exhaustion.

So when you can almost guess what the next few feet of screen is likely to show, it might be well to turn your eyes away from a moment, or perhaps close them gently for a few seconds.

This will give the nerves and muscles controlling the eye a chance to rest just that long.

If your eyes are not normal anyway, you can readily see that it would be wise to do this quite frequently.

So to enjoy the movies safely, sit in the center, well back, and "shift" your eyes occasionally from the screen.

If you do this, you will likely go oftener and get more enjoyment.

Slaves to Physic Find Liver Health

Weekly Health Talk
By Froude & Mac Kinnon, D's. C.

The normal life of animals is six times the years required to reach maturity. The human being matures physically in twenty years and should live to the age of 120 years, and doubtless would if an abnormal life did not have a tendency to interfere with the normal elimination of waste matter from the bowels.

But the slaves to physic today have found a new way to health which natural bowel movement brings. By chiropractic spinal adjustments, the normal life energy that travels spinal nerve lines is freed, and the liver once more does its work in the natural, vigorous way that means health and long life.

PHYSICAL WRECK FINDS HEALTH

"I was what is termed a physical wreck. In fact I was unable to do a week's work without losing a day or so, and I was a slave to physic. My heart also was affected. My bowels troubled me from childhood. I was advised to go to a chiropractor and was told he would get me well. There was an improvement immediately. It has been months since the chiropractor discharged me as being well, and I am satisfied that I will never again have a return of the bowel trouble. My heart also has been made well."—U. V. TEACHERS PROVE GOOD ACTORS

Their Plays of Youth and Love at The High School Delight a Large Audience.

If so many people can enjoy an evening of such unadorned pleasure and delight as was afforded the large audience at the High School on Friday evening when the "Faculty Plays" were given with such inadequate scenery, what may we not look forward to when more adequate scenery is provided as it surely will be as one of the results of the funds received from the sale of tickets? When entertainers can, today, send home an audience with smiles on their faces, laughter in their voices, and a look in their eyes that means many happy and restful thoughts afterward, they have bestowed an almost priceless gift, and that was what happened on Friday evening, when members of the High School faculty gave the two plays, "The Manners," by Edmund Rostand and "The Wonder Hat," by Ben Hect and Kenneth Sawyer Goodman.

The first play was about the time of Louis XIV of France, and the beauty of the tiny garden spot was enhanced by the charm of the players, and their handsome costumes of the period added much to the beauty of the picture.

The entire audience, but especially the student body was on the qui vive, as the lights were dimmed and two green clad and sturdy pages—Masters William Kelly and Fred Brown—drew aside the stage curtains, showing a glimpse of the garden and allowing Miss Ethel M. Hull in most becoming Greek costume of white draperies to step forth and give in fascinating manner the Prologue. Of course it was easy to guess that Percinet and Sylvette were "Romancers," but who would have dreamed of their tyrannical, scolding, hating fathers as being even better at the game of Romance than the youngsters? That was a clever surprise indeed. Percinet, the lover, (Henry F. Dunbar) was indeed a gallant suitor, with a fine sense of romance without sentimentality who won the admiration of all. A sweeter more earnestly in love little lass than dainty Sylvette (Miss Edith W. Case) could not be imagined. No wonder Percinet was madly in love with her. As to the two frangible old fathers, Pasquiot (Harold Shoemaker) and Bergamin (Ellis D. Brown) they were two most surprising old rascals with boys' hearts still full of the love of romance which they expended upon their children by putting serious obstacles in their way in order to ensure that they fell in love with each other. The two old friends might find their families and their estates united. A wily and gay abductor was Straforol (Robert T. Williams) and Miles G. Stroup and Kenneth Davis were indeed fearsome "swordsmen." Charles R. Spaulding and Erwin Hummel were equally charming as musicians while the "Negroes" (Alec P. Armadon and John J. Flinerty) added colorfulness to the picture as they carried the sedan chair in which Sylvette was to be captured in the mock abduction, which romantically united all of the "Romancers."

One number not on the program occurred between the two plays when Miss Noone and Miss Madeleine Tarrant who coached the plays were called before the curtain and presented, each, with an armful of large pink chrysanthemums.

After a piano solo played by Miss Gladys C. Snow greatly to the enjoyment of all, the audience wandered with the players in a different garden and had a right merry time of it. A self-loving, querulous "Chap" was fantastically clad Harlequin (Ralph W. Perry) who was even better in his splendidly well taken part when, wearing the Wonder Hat, he became invisible to his neighbors in the garden. Pierrot (Ralph J. Cocks) with his English drawl, his characteristic make-up and his ardent love-making to the wearer of the magic boot was splendid. "Punchinello" (Theron L. Culbert) with his "Old Loves for New," his bargains and his magic garments, made his part very realistic. A naive, winsome, coquettish maiden, avowedly in love with Harlequin, Columbine (Miss Jane Schmitzer) played her part most charmingly, while the portness and sauciness, the piquancy and tartness of Margot (Miss Beth M. Easley) went far to make this play the happy, humorous success it was. There were many regrets that the good times were so soon over, but the people in "The Romancers," and "The Wonder Hat" will live long and happily ever afterward in the memory of the friends they made, while the Kingston City Library and the High School stage will gain materially thereby.

According to the program the committee gratefully acknowledged the assistance given by Miss Kathryn Bestle, Miss Marian Bigelow, Miss Rhea Burgett, Miss Virginia Canaro, Miss Marguerite R. Cordes, Miss Helen M. Elmendorf, Miss Ada S. Fuller, Miss Margaret Greene, Miss Jane H. Munterstock, Miss Margaret McCullough, Miss Mary E. Noone, Miss S. Ruth Seigle, Miss Madeleine Tarrant, Miss Kate Walton, Mrs. Ross K. Witter, Miss Elizabeth P. Clarke, Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, B. C. Van Ingen, Alec P. Armadon, Irwin Crow, Dallas Haines, Henry Millionig, Arnold Morgenstern, Roscoe A. Paul, Frank L. Elmendorf, Kingston Daily Freeman, Kingston Daily Leader, Y. M. C. A. also those who helped in the production of these plays. Edith W. Case was chairman of the committee.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

GRANT-YOUR-WISHES

Fairy Grant-Your-Wishes had promised the Dreamland King and Fairy Wondrous Secrets that she would visit a little girl that evening named Gladys. Gladys had been full of wishes of late. Particularly had she had one main wish, and it was about that wish that Fairy Grant-Your-Wishes was going to see her.

Gladys didn't know that she was going to have any visitors. No one had told her about the plans which had been made by the Dreamland King and Fairy Wondrous Secrets and Fairy Grant-Your-Wishes. And it came as a great surprise when suddenly she saw a lovely, dainty fairy perched on the end of her bed.

"Dear me," said Gladys, "now if I only were Lucille next door I would not have an old nightie. Lucille only has good nighties. She wears them all the time because she has no second best ones as I have." This was the way she greeted Fairy Grant-Your-Wishes. "I wish, Fairy, for I can see that you are a fairy, I wish very hard at times, and I do wish my wish would come true."

"I knew you were the one who wanted to see me. I knew it and the Dreamland King knew it, and so did Fairy Wondrous Secrets."

"They knew it? You knew it?" asked Gladys in surprise.

"Yes," said Fairy Grant-Your-Wishes. "It has been heard in Fairyland that you had a wish you wanted granted. My name is Fairy Grant-Your-Wishes. Allow me to introduce myself to you."

"How wonderful," said Gladys. "I am delighted to meet you."

"I am indeed pleased to meet you," said Fairy Grant-Your-Wishes, as she smiled sweetly at Gladys.

"But it is too bad, as I said," Gladys went on, "that you should call on me when I am wearing such a horrid old nightie. You see, it is of coarse cotton, and Lucille always has pretty ones with ribbons on them or embroidery, or something nice."

"Lucille has lots of money, and she doesn't have to do errands and odd jobs to try to make extra sums of money for her spending money."

"She gets a big allowance and never has to do a thing. She can have a soda water on Friday—and has the money for it, too. Yet I never have anything left by Friday, for it is Saturday when I am able to get a little money—and by the following Friday I never have anything left."

"You seem to talk a great deal about Lucille. Is your wish anything about her?" asked Fairy Grant-Your-Wishes.

"Oh, how did you guess?" cried Gladys excitedly. "I suppose because you are a wonderful fairy. Oh, yes, I would give anything if I could be in Lucille's place. I envy her so."

"She has everything and I have hardly anything. If I could have my wish I'd like to put myself in Lucille's place."

"Granted," said Fairy Grant-Your-Wishes.

And before Gladys could tell what was happening she suddenly found herself in Lucille's bed and it was time to get up. She had beautiful clothes to put on, and when she looked in the looking glass she looked just like Lucille.

"When she went downstairs Lucille's daddy—though he called her 'my child'—gave her a dollar—and then told her that she could go to the circus that afternoon."

"Goodie," she cried, and as she was finishing her breakfast he added: "I don't want you to stand and watch the parade, though. You would only get tired and your mother is going to take you with her in the automobile."

But she could hardly see anything from the automobile and she wanted to get down and watch the parade to do that. She seemed to think and feel like Gladys, but here she was, Lucille, without a doubt! And oh dear, she began to feel she didn't like it. She had no sister and no brothers, there was nothing that was a "treat."

"Oh dear," she said, "I wish I were Gladys again!" And before she knew it she found her mother waking her up and saying:

"Hurry, Gladys, your brother is waiting for you to see the circus unload!" And oh, what fun it was to be Gladys again. For somehow she had been Gladys so long that she wasn't happy stepping into the shoes of anyone else. She and herself had been pals so long, and the good fairy Grant-Your-Wishes had not only granted her the first but the second wish!

SMALL CAKES AND COOKIES

This is the time of the year when fruit cake, pound cake and cookies of various kinds are prepared by the thrifty housewife, for the season when there is little time for any extra work. The holidays bring so much to do that the food which keeps and is improved by age is always prepared early.

The following recipe is a luxury, rather expensive, and must be baked with the greatest care, but they are worth all the trouble of making:

Chocolate Cookies.—Take one-half cupful of butter, one cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of sour milk, one and one-half cupfuls of flour, one-half cupful of walnut meats, one egg, well beaten, one-half teaspoonful of soda and two squares of melted chocolate. Drop from a teaspoonful on a buttered sheet and bake in a slow oven. Cover with frosting. Take three cupfuls of confectioner's sugar, one whole egg well beaten, and three tablespoonfuls of cream. Add the sugar gradually to the egg and cream. Spread on the cookies when they are nearly cold.

Ohio White Cookies.—Cream together one cupful each of butter and sugar, add two well-beaten eggs, a half cupful of milk or cream, a half teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder sifted with flour to roll. Roll very thin and bake quickly.

Ohio Ginger Cookies.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of shortening, one cupful of molasses, one cupful of sugar, two well-beaten eggs, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a scant half cupful of boiling water. Add ginger, cinnamon and cloves to taste. Add flour to roll, stand on ice until well chilled before rolling. The less flour used in any of these cookies the more tender and moist they keep.

Macaroons.—Take one cupful each of cornflakes, sugar and coconut. Beat two egg whites until stiff, add the sugar, then two tablespoonfuls of flour, the other ingredients, a pinch of salt and a teaspoonful of vanilla. This makes two dozen macaroons. Bake in a moderate oven. Drop them from a teaspoon onto a buttered baking sheet.

SCHWARZWAELDER LOOKS FOR BANNER SCOUTING SEASON.

County Scout Executive Nesslage was in conference on Thursday with S. Burrell Schwarzwaelder, who on January 1 will become president of the Ulster County Boy Scout Council, at Mr. Schwarzwaelder's home at Chichester, and found Mr. Schwarzwaelder enthusiastic over the prospects for scouting next year. Last year there were the handicaps of insufficient funds and lack of Scoutmasters, but the campaign just closed has put Scouting on a firm financial footing for at least a year and there is much better prospect for Scoutmasters. Besides, Mr. Schwarzwaelder feels that he has a loyal and energetic council behind him, and that the organization's promise to have 1,000 Scouts in Ulster county by June 30 next will be fulfilled. Tiskilwa Park, the Scout Camp on the Schwarzwaelder property, is expected to be run on a vastly larger scale next summer.

RAILROAD RECEIVES CHECK MAILED 18 YEARS AGO.

Jerome Williams, of 638 Delaware avenue, has a hobby of collecting stamped envelopes, the stamps from which he adds to a large stamp collection. If he has not already the same stamp. In going through a pile he had acquired from various junk shops and other sources the other day he found an unopened letter addressed to B. A. Grant, agent of the New York Central R. R. at Columbiaville, N. Y., postmarked September 5, 1905. Mr. Williams opened the letter and found it contained a check dated Hudson, N. Y., September 5, 1905, drawn to the order of Mr. Grant, and was signed by C. R. VanDe Carr, Stockport, N. Y. It amounted to $69.33 and was drawn on the Farmers' National Bank of Hudson.

The check was intended to pay freight charges on a carload of paper from Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Williams turned the check over to F. P. Ebelhauser, chief clerk at the New York Central freight office here, who sent it to the treasurer of the road for disposition.

SUPERVISORS END YEAR TUESDAY

In Indication Now—Committee Reports And Recommendations—State Asked to Say Yes or No As To Tuberculosis Hospital Addition.

Indications are that the regular session for 1923 of the board of supervisors will close on Tuesday next, with the adoption of the reports of the committee on supervisors' bills, on salaries of county officers, and on appropriations, and a recess taken for a few days to give time for Clerk DeWitt to make up the tax rolls, after which the board will hold an adjourned session for a day or two.

Friday night committee reports were read and motions to appropriate various amounts as recommended offered and laid over.

The committee on printing reported amount claimed, $17,386.81; amount allowed, $16,319.67; and further recommended that in addition to the amount in column allowed that there be raised upon the county $2,000 to pay for printing the lists of enrolled voters when completed.

The committee on Tuberculosis Hospital and laboratory reported that they have investigated the expenditures made by the board of managers of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital for the year commencing January 1, 1922, and also probable expenditures which will be necessary to maintain and operate the hospital during the year 1924. The committee recommended that there be paid the board of managers the sum of $500 for rent of the hospital for 1924, and that in addition thereto that there be appropriated for the maintenance and support of the patients in the hospital, for the cost of repairs, improvements and additions thereto, and for salaries and wages of the officers and employees, the sum of $15,000 for the year 1924. The committee further recommended that the State Department of Health be requested to immediately approve or reject, as they may see fit the proposed plans for additions to the hospital, as the same are badly needed, and additional accommodations are needed for the patients who are now applying for admission to the hospital. The plans which have been submitted to them, we believe are adequate for the needs of the county for some time to come, but under the law no construction can be commenced until they are approved by the State Health Department.

The committee further reported that they have examined all claims and bills and recommend payment of amounts in column headed allowed. Amount claimed, $80; amount allowed, $60.

The committee on errors in assessments reported: Amount claimed, $292.51; amount allowed, nothing. The committee on insurance reported that insurance policies to the amount of $118,000 had been secured on property of Ulster county in the city of Kingston, and in the sum of $96,000 on county farm buildings at New Paltz; that the total amount of claims for insurance was $3,526.45; allowed, $3,460.58, of which $1,714.05 be levied on the county, and $1,746.53 on county outside city. Filed.

Communications were read showing inspections of Ulster county tuberculosis hospital, and inspection of Ulster County Jail, with recommendations for improvements which communications were received and filed.

Motions of committees whose reports had been read in which recommendations for appropriations were made, were offered and laid over under the rule.

Resolutions offered on Thursday evening were called up and adopted. On motions of Supervisor Williams, the board of supervisors adjourned until Monday, December 10, 1923, at 7:30 o'clock.

General Butler May Lead Quaker City Cops.

General Butler D. Butler.

Brigadier-General Smedley D. Butler, "the fighting Quaker," idol of the U. S. Marine Corps, has been asked to assume command of the Philadelphia police force and will do so if the Marine Corps will grant him a leave of absence, which Secretary Denby opposes because of the value of General Butler to the Corps. Smedley Butler, whose idea of a post of command is that it should be somewhere ahead of the firing line, instead of in a marine's fairly voracious a real life that is heartily reciprocated. He recently acted as cheer leader for the Corps when the Marines football team defeated the team of the Third Army Corps.

They are Wearing

Black velvet and gray fox. The metal banding above cuffs and borders of bright silver and rose, and the large black velvet hat is trimmed with a silver bowknot.

A split or beige velour, with large heavier collar. The sleeves and triple front wrap effect are quite unusual. The tiny hat is brown satin.

Black velvet and ermine. The sleeves display white lining, and a flower with white ermine petals trim the black velvet hat.

A sheath-like coat of black cloth combined with seal. The seal bands at wrist and knee are bordered in bandings of patterned gold. The hat is suede, with silk spiral treatment and petal-edges of the flower ornament.

Black velvet and cream lace. The continuation of the circular flounce in diminishing width to the right shoulder gives an interesting outline. Gardenias and ermine tails form the hat decoration.

The oddly shaped pockets of a black cloth mannish tailcoat are accented by pipings of white. A white piping also extends down the skirt. The black hat, a modified sailor has a band and tailored bow.

A squirrel cape fitted at the shoulders achieves extraordinary slender lines.

At Sherry's one day this week, a black velvet dress with ermine shawl collar pointed at the back, and ermine cuffs, attracted considerable attention. It had a long, figure-moulding bodice, a large black velvet bow at the front.

A smart black cloth coat seen on the Avenue had a deep, scantily gathered ruffle at the bottom, edged with a narrow band of badger fur, and the sleeves were finished with similar ruffles. The huge bolster collar was also of badger.

Many short leopard coats collar-ed in beaver are making their appearance. Also trimming of leopard on street costumes is increasing in favor.

A black suit of soft pile fabric is effectively trimmed in red fox, which is used for collar, cuffs and panel tabs.

Many bright colored coats of smooth-surfaced fabrics have been seen recently, worn with cloche hats of matching materials. A wrap-on the Avenue had a collar of kit around a model in Mandarin red seen fox, which was also used for tabs on a hat.

Clean Creature the Snake.
No creature in nature is more scrupulously clean than the snake. Captive specimens soon die if kept in unwholesome conditions, says the Detroit News. Shedding of the skin is a natural provision to rid the entire integument of any soiling that might accidentally take place during the serpent's careful mode of life. But it is rarely that one ever observes a wild serpent that does not look as clean as if attired in new silk or velvet, as the case may be, according to the kind of snake. Those with smooth scales have a silky luster, while species with keeled scales as a rule look like velvet. There is no slime in the make-up of any member of the serpent tribe.

Kick the Bucket.
Did you ever hear the expression: "Kick the bucket"? It arose in the days of the great gold rush to California and Australia in 1849-51. Many unfortunate seekers after gold, losing their all in an unavailing effort to find the precious "dust," committed suicide. The suicide tied a rope to a beam in his hut. Then, standing on an up-turned bucket, he would adjust the other end of the rope around his neck. When all was ready he simply kicked the bucket from under his feet.

Beware the Flapper.
Just when a young man begins to think a great deal of himself as he climbs the ladder of success, a young flapper comes along, smiles impishly, he proposes and he becomes a failure.

BEST TO SMOTHER CARBURETOR FIRE

Pouring on Water Simply Floats
Lighter Gasoline and Makes
It Burn Better.

(By EDWIN ORRIS, President Greer College of Automotive Engineering, Chicago.)

New gasoline burns or explodes in what puts fear into the average man and makes him stand at what he considers a safe distance while he watches his car or truck go up in smoke. If the fuel tank contained twenty, ten or even one gallon of ordinary black gunpowder, his fear would be exceedingly well founded, since whenever fire reaches any part of a mass of gunpowder, it all explodes in a small fraction of a second. Fortunately gasoline alone is not only non-explosive but will not even burn unless it is first evaporated and the vapor in contact with the oxygen of the air.

Safe to Fight Fire.
Even if the gasoline tank is under the cowl or under the front seat, there is little danger of its contents being ignited from a carburetor fire unless it is allowed to burn for several minutes. If the gas tank has its screw cap in position, the walls of the tank must be red hot (almost) above the liquid surface line before the fuel inside the tank will be set on fire. Hence it is perfectly safe to fight the carburetor fire before it has had time to heat up things too much.

First Thing to Do.
The first thing to do, of course, is to close the valve in the pipe line between tank and carburetor. The next is to smother the fire. Pouring on water is worse than useless because it will simply float the lighter gasoline and oil to the surface and make it burn better. A wetted cloth or bag, however, is effective and may be used. Anything that will not itself burn very rapidly will do to shut off the air supply from the burning gasoline. Wool does not burn so fast as cotton, hence a woolen coat, overcoat, lap robe, rug or blanket may be the handiest thing to push up tightly around and over the burning fuel.

If wool is not at hand, cotton fabric of any kind, if fairly thick, will answer. Road dust, sand, even sugar, salt or flour, wheat, barley, or other threshed grain, in fact anything that will stop or greatly slow down the flow of air will do the business. Usually a small carburetor fire, if put out promptly, will not do enough injury to the machine to prevent ready starting after things have cooled down enough to permit turning on the gasoline again.

ELECTRICAL SYSTEM OF CAR

Efficient Operation Obtained by Running Current Through Metal Parts of Frame.

Certain parts of the electric system are grounded to the motor or frame of the car for the main purpose of saving copper wire. An electric system could have both positive and negative poles of storage battery, generator, starting motor connected with other parts of the system with which they function entirely with wire leading to and from these parts, but it is seldom done, as efficient operation is just as well obtained by passing the current through one wire and having it returned by way of the frame, motor or other metal parts to its source.

Something to Remember

Never park a car in the center of a highway, near a fire plug, at a street intersection, just around a curve or corner, on a hill, partly on the pavement, in a dark spot without lights, in front of a theater, on soft ground, nor near emergency entrances or exits of hospitals.

SMALLEST REAL AUTOMOBILE IS LIGHT ENOUGH TO CARRY AROUND

When this tiny car develops engine trouble the driver just picks it up and walks back to his garage; but when the engine is running smoothly the auto rolls along at 25 miles an hour, propelled by a 1 1/2 horsepower engine. It is a real car with three speeds and reverse and is believed to be the smallest practicable motor car ever built. The maker lives at Kingston, England.

Just a Comparison

What would happen to the engineer of a locomotive—
If he were discovered sitting at the throttle with a pet dog in his lap, adjusting his glasses with his hands and reading the billboards along the way—while traveling 40 miles per hour?
If he took his twelve-year-old boy along with him on Sundays and permitted him to run it?
If he discussed his golf score with the fireman and missed a number of signals along the way, even though "nothing happened"?
He'd lose his job. If not his life. But the "engineer" of a motor car is supposed to be "different." He is excused on grounds that he ought to know better.

PROVIDES SUPPORT FOR CAR

Ingenious Device for Quickly Jacking Up All Four Wheels of a Car.

STRAIGHTEN HEADLIGHT BEAM

Trouble Caused by Reflectors Being Loose and Gradually Working Out of Line.

Beams from the headlights being out of focus is not always caused by bent lamp brackets or fenders to which the brackets are usually fastened, as is generally supposed. The trouble may lie in the reflectors being loose from their fastenings and gradually working out of line, or it may be due to the lamp bulbs themselves. If the filament is not centered in a bulb, it will throw a beam to the side or up or down, according to the way it is bent. The only remedy for this trouble is to replace the bulb.

AUTOMOBILE HINTS

Moisture gathering on the exposed part of the porcelain of the spark plug will often cause irregular firing.

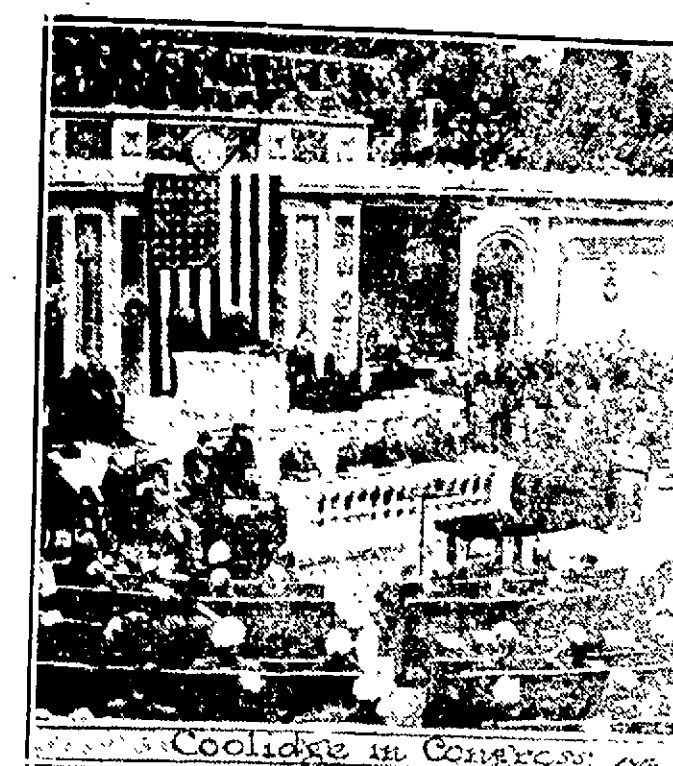

In fitting a spark plug in a cold cylinder be very careful not to screw it too tight.

The city of New York is building a garage and motor repair shop, costing $3,500,000.

The wheels of a car should be jacked up and tested periodically, not only for smoothness of running but for side play as well.

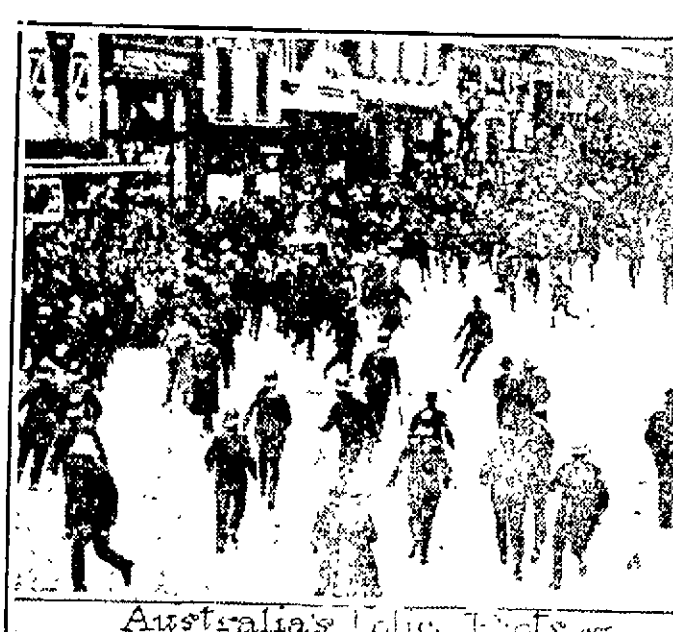

Noise in the driving belts of the rear axle is commonly caused by poor adjustment, allowing too little or too much backlash.

QUARRYVILLE LABORER HAS AN UNUSUAL CLAIM

Compensation Commission to Pass on Saxe's Injury.

The claim of Charles Saxe of Quarryville, this town, which was tried before Referee Cooper of the Workmen's Compensation Commission at Kingston on Tuesday afternoon, presented a legal question so novel and unique that the referee finally decided to submit it to the full Compensation Commission at Albany for argument and determination.

While working in a quarry operated by Harry Wells, Peter Moore and Ernest Van Sienburgh at Quarryville on October 8, 1923, Saxe was struck in the right eye by a piece of stone which clipped off a stone he was cutting. The injury was considered trivial at the time, but shortly following the accident the eye became swollen and inflamed and gradually, despite the efforts of physicians and eye specialists, the sight of the eye was entirely lost, and the sight of his left eye became greatly impaired.

At the hearing before Referee Cooper on Tuesday, counsel for the Security Mutual Casualty Co., in which Saxe's employers were insured, contested his claim and asserted that the loss of Saxe's eyesight was not due to the accident but resulted from cataracts in Saxe's eyes which existed prior to the accident and which they contended would have ultimately destroyed his sight in any event. Surrogate George F. Kaufman, who appeared for Saxe, presented proof controverting the evidence offered by the company and contended that even admitting for purposes of argument the existence of cataracts in Saxe's eyes prior to the accident his client was nevertheless entitled to an award for the reason that Saxe's eyesight might have lasted for the entire balance of his life time despite the cataracts condition had it not been for the accident which aggravated that condition and produced immediate blindness.

Referee Cooper stated that the case was entirely novel in his experience and that he deemed the question involved of such importance that it ought to be passed upon by the full commission at Albany in order that its determination might serve as a precedent for subsequent cases. He set the case down for a special hearing before the commission at Albany before the next Saturday morning where it will be argued by counsel for the insurance company and by Surrogate Kaufman for Saxe.

RECORD BUILDING
IN NOV. IN STATE

The country's building activities continued their lead over last year through November, according to F. Dodge Corporation. Total contracts awarded during the month in the 36 Eastern States (including out of the country's total construction volume) amounted to $18,823,000. Although this was a drop from the October figure, 27 of these states (for which records were kept last year), there was an increase of 19% over last November. As in October, the heaviest increase in construction activity was in New York state and northern New Jersey, which was the only district showing an increase over October. The recorded figures on building volume in October and November indicate an unusually busy winter for the construction industry.

Included in last month's record were the following important items: 153,953,000 or 50%, for residential buildings; $44,467,000 or 14%, for industrial buildings; $36,237,000, or 17%, for public works and utilities; $12,584,000, or 10%, for business buildings; and $24,273,000, or 8%, for educational buildings.

Total construction started in the 36 Eastern states during the first seven months of this year has amounted to $3,237,068,000. In 27 of these states the lead over the corresponding period of last year is a little more than 3%.

Contemplated new work reported during the month amounted to $623,000, an increase of 10% over the amount reported in October.

Contracts awarded during November in New York state and northern New Jersey amounted to $124,311,000. This is the highest recorded monthly total for this district. The increase over October was 13%, over November last year, 73%. Included in last month's total were: $69,930,000, or 56%, for residential buildings; $28,022,000, or 23%, for industrial plants; $9,611,700, or 8%, for business buildings; and $8,570,000, or 7%, for educational buildings. The large total for industrial buildings included one twenty-million dollar power project in New Jersey.

Construction started in this district during the first eleven months of this year has amounted to $959,230,000, an increase of 15% over the corresponding period of last year.

Contemplated new work reported in November amounted to $178,485,000, an increase of 23% over the amount reported in October.

OPPOSE RURAL SCHOOL BILL

Meeting at Stone Ridge Goes on Record Against Suggestions of Committee of 21—Trueman Talks.

Over 50 persons responded to the call for a meeting in the school house at Stone Ridge on December 6. Trustee C. C. Hardenburgh called the meeting to order and stated that it was an informal gathering to discuss the proposed changes in the rural school laws, and threw the meeting open for discussion. There being no response he called on W. Trueman of Lake Katrine to tell those present what he knew of the controversy. The ice being once broken a general discussion followed the value of which was largely owing to questions put by the chairman to the speaker. The first one being, "Do you think the Legislature will pass a bill of this kind?"

"It will depend entirely on the action of such meetings as these. If we protest earnestly we can retain our schools. If we let things take their course they are gone for ever," was the answer.

"Have you any alternative plan to offer in place of this?"

"No. It is not our duty to provide educational systems, that is the sole duty of the board of education, but they have fallen down on their job, while still drawing their pay and are now endeavoring to make it appear that we are responsible for their failure."

A speaker then stated we have heard a great many bad things about the bill, but he knew there were a lot of good ones as well, he liked to hear both sides of any question.

The chairman then called on him to please state these good points as that was the purpose of the meeting. He then said he was not prepared to do that, but he was sure they were there as everything had two sides.

On a motion that "we are opposed to any bill bill along the lines of the suggestions of the Committee of 21" being put, the vote was overwhelmingly opposed to the committee's suggestions.

Mr. Trueman spoke as follows: "I wish to point out two great factors involved in this controversy that up to this time have not been brought out by either side. The first is the responsibility of the state board of education and the second is the value of the education we have received."

"As to the first, our professional educationists asked us to hand over the whole machinery to them, supply them with funds and they would educate our children without effort on our part. We agreed to this practically, retaining a very limited amount of local control, most of which has since vanished by means of political subtlety. The program laid out by the board not proving attractive to a large number of prospective citizens, compulsion was asked for and granted, while a policeman with a club was then added to drive the youngsters to it."

"Thus given a free hand with abundant cash this scheme has been working many years and having had its effect on parents and grandparents of today."

"We are now told our rural schools are a disgrace to the state, and the whole trouble is laid at the door of the teachers and trustees."

"We are all familiar with the old fable of 'stop thief,' but it is not possible our professional educators will be able to get out of their responsibility as cheaply as this. Practically all power has been with them from the autocrat in the commissioner's swivel chair, down to the district superintendent, rules and regulations and again more rules have been issued, till the best teachers are in despair and the trustees have long ago given up hope and we now find ourselves in the position of the manufacturer who consulted the efficiency expert only to be told that all his difficulties rested on the office boy and the typewriter."

The second factor and by far the more important is the kind of education we have received in return for all this expensive machinery for which they are now asking us to surrender the last ditch to enable them, to use their own words, "Give the rural child as good an opportunity as the city child." Now, my friends, if this radical, revolutionary and expensive scheme has nothing better to offer the rural people than has been bestowed on the cities, then in the name of all that is American, in the name of all our great men of the past, of literature, of our mother tongue, of civilization itself, which our greatest statesmen claim to even now be tottering, in the name of our homes, that appear to be a memory, and of parenthood that has lost its sacredness, in the name of all these things, let me say, if this is the best they have to offer then let us endure the evils we have all such time as those in authority have devised a system of education that will educate instead of exerting themselves to force a hybrid scheme on an unwilling people.

The sum of the whole matter is that our professional educationists, having assumed the duty of educating the people, closed every means of escape by demanding compulsory attendance, must now face the full responsibility for all shortcomings of the country over. They thus lose on the first count. On the second, they fare no better for instead of producing an educated public, we have armies of stock salesmen clerks and flappers whose chief claims to distinction seem to be driving an auto, listening to radio, going to the movies, the bunny bus or tango. And this is what the farmers are called upon to bond their districts for, to build palatial schools fitted with every means of reproducing in the country all these benefits of city life.

FRENCH SAD OVER
ELECTION RESULTS

Glad Carson is Out But Fear All Sorts of Trouble From Probable Retirement of Baldwin.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, Dec. 8.—The result of the British general election caused consternation in French official circles today because of the possible effect upon Anglo-French relations.

Departure of Stanley Baldwin from the British premiership—which is now regarded as certain—brings France face to face with a dilemma—complete isolation in Europe or reversal of the Ruhr-reparations policy of Premier Poincare.

A well informed member of the chamber of deputies pointed out to International News Service that Premier Baldwin was the last hope for maintenance of the Anglo-French entente. It is generally believed here that Baldwin's successor will be less sympathetic towards the French attitude than the present English prime minister.

In addition to the menace of a collapse of the Anglo-French entente, France is threatened by the Spanish-Italian bloc on her western and southern flanks. The situation in Germany is regarded as virtually hopeless. President Coolidge's message to the American congress showed America's disinterest in Europe.

"Negotiations with London and Paris are imperative," said the Petit Parisien.

L. Courve said that France welcomes the departure from power of Lord Carson, the British foreign secretary, "even if it means the bringing back of former Premier David Lloyd George."

Possibility that Lloyd George may be foreign secretary in the next British cabinet was discussed with interest in diplomatic circles. It is agreed that such an event would mean a more aggressive British policy against France.

MEUSELS FACE EACH OTHER AGAIN

"Irish" Emil Meusel, Giant, and his brother, Bob Meusel, Yankee, two left fielders opposed each other for the third consecutive world's series. Incidentally it might be stated that it was Bob's hit in the eighth inning of the final game that won the championship for the Yankees. Emil won the family batting honors by a few points.

Has Joined Immortals

"Tex" Hunter, captain of the University of Pennsylvania football eleven, joined the immortals by catching a kick-off and running 95 yards for a touchdown against Columbia in their recent game in Philadelphia. It's somewhat similar to a homer with the bases full.

Penn Club Is Father

The most famous married man in all the ranks of football players is probably Tom Ellwood, substitute guard on the Penn state eleven. Ellwood is not only married, but is also the father of four robust youngsters, and, at that, is only twenty-three. Between keeping an eye out for the children and attending the school of agriculture, Ellwood finds time to play football and also run a farm which he owns three miles down the valley from the college.

A second-hand "fiver" takes him to and from his classes, replacing the bicycle of last year. He reported to Hugo Bezdek only last year, and in his second season proved a valuable line man. In addition to this, Tom is the 175-pound wrestling star of Penn State, was undefeated last season, and if the wife and children don't object expects to take a shot at the intercollegiate wrestling championship in his class.

Says Cardinals Will Be Pennant Winner in 1924

It is "no idle jest" that the St. Louis Cardinals may win the National league pennant next year, according to Branch Rickey, manager of the team. In making the prediction, Manager Rickey declared that he would direct a team of championship caliber in 1924 and expect to be in the fight from the beginning.

Sports writers reveal that Rickey is conservative in making predictions, when at the end of the 1922 season the Cardinal manager asserted the best he could hope to accomplish in 1923 was the ousting of his team in preparation for the 1924 season.

Claim Northern Girls Are Better as Athletes

"Texas girls do not compare favorably in athletics with northern girls but they do have the spirit and inclination to improve," says Miss Olga Anderson, the latest addition to the women's physical training staff of the University of Texas. Miss Anderson is in charge of girls' swimming, tennis and advanced gymnasium work, and is director of the Turtle club, an organization of girl swimmers. She obtained her bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin and taught there for three years.

SCHOOLGIRL WINS NATIONAL ESSAY PRIZE

Miss Dorothy Louise Roberts of Harlan, Ky., is announced as the fourth winner of the Harvey S. Flansburg four year university scholarship. Her essay, "The Influence of Highway Transport Upon the Religious Life of My Community," was selected from 150,000 submitted in the contest conducted by the National Education Board as the best. The scholarship is valued at $1,000 a year.

Sport Notes

There is indeed too much betting on football games.

The IHL Top A. C. is Pittsburgh's latest boxing organization.

The trouble with the kicking game is that it is not confined to football.

Girls' tennis will be included in the seventh Far Eastern Olympic games.

Yale will for the first time stage the intercollegiate wrestling championships at New Haven, March 21 and 22.

Eddie Collins as manager at Washington would be a just reward to one of the greatest players and one of the greatest credits to baseball.

Manila (P. I.) Intercollegiate A. A. are striving to develop girl tennis players to oppose the Chinese and Japanese players in tourney games.

The Cleveland Americans will play the Cincinnati Nationals at Cincinnati, the Saturday and Sunday before the opening of the 1924 major league season.

The Yankees announce the signing of Milton Gaston, the big right-hand pitcher of the Paterson Silk Sox. He is a brother of Catcher Alex Gaston, of the Giants.

There is much talk about the football systems of different colleges, says an old grad, but there is not much difference in the systems. The great difference is the execution, he opines.

DRY LAW AND MORALITY BEFORE MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Orange County Doctors Hold Annual Meeting.

Dr. W. B. Andrews of Newburgh, retiring president of the Orange County Medical Society, delivering his annual address at the annual meeting of the organization in Goshen on Wednesday, recommended that whether or not the physician was in favor of the Volstead Act, he should uphold the law and advise his patients to do likewise.

Relative to commitment of the mental defective, Dr. Andrews spoke particularly with respect to the young girl in the adolescent period. He decried the sending away of young girls to institutions for their moral errors when boys who caused the situation are allowed to roam the streets and continue their practice.

Dr. A. B. Chappell of Middletown was elected president of the society to succeed Dr. Andrews; Dr. Jesse D. Mars of Florida, vice president; Dr. Hilton J. Sheller of Middletown, secretary-treasurer.

The board of censors was re-elected. It includes Dr. M. A. Slivers of Middletown, Dr. Bernhard of Wallingford, Dr. W. H. Snyder of Newburgh, Dr. E. G. Cuddeback of Port Jervis.

The delegate named to the state society was Dr. W. B. Andrews. Dr. A. B. Chappell was named as alternate. Dr. J. B. Bulett of Middletown was delegated to attend the First District Branch meeting.

VETERAN AT REUNION ON 60TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

When the "boys" of the Teller Post No. 121 G. A. R. of Grahamsville, came together last Saturday for their annual meeting and celebration, one of the "gang" made it the occasion of a double celebration.

Burkoyne Knight is more than a veteran of the Civil War. He is a veteran married man. On Saturday he celebrated the 66th anniversary of his wedding and together with his partner of 66 years held the center of the stage at the G. A. R. meeting.

While Mr. and Mrs. Knight issued no joint statement for publication on that auspicious day their manner indicated that they "were as happy as a pair of kids." Their friends of the G. A. R. were all inviting themselves to their 70th anniversary.

POUGHKEEPSIE IN GRIP OF CRIME WAVE

Police Warn Business Men and Householders.

The Poughkeepsie Eagle News says:

The Silas W. Hinckley and William Nelson residences in lower Academy street were entered between seven and eight o'clock Thursday night by burglars, who escaped with jewelry valued at more than $1,700. Investigation by police and representatives of the Dutchess county sheriff's office failed to gain any but the barest clue to the identity of the intruders although a description of the man who robbed the Nelson home was telephoned to all parts of the Hudson Valley.

Captain Patrick A. McGowan, acting chief of police in the illness of Chief William J. Sheedy, Thursday warned local business men and householders to guard their possessions particularly against thieves in the presence of what appears to be a crime wave sweeping over the city.

All Right for Seven Cents.

The neighbors said that Jake Newton was strictly honest but "pretty snug." One morning as he was having his sheep sheared he found that one of them was missing. "It must have jumped the fence and gone into Leslie's lot," he said to himself and immediately walked over to Leslie French's pasture, picked out a sheep that resembled his own and, after a tussle, got it home and had it sheared. A few days later Jake discovered his missing sheep dead in his pasture. He lost no time in seeking his neighbor. With profuse apologies he returned the sheep and the fleece and explained the whole affair. "Oh, that's all right, Jake," Leslie replied. "Don't let it trouble you a bit." "You're sure it's all right?" Jake asked anxiously. "Sure, sure, Jake. Anyone is likely to make a mistake," Jake drew himself up. "Well, it ought to be all right. I had to pay seven cents to have that sheep sheared."

Walk Tells the Character.

A woman's character can be told by her walk. A martial tread indicates the soldierly type of woman. An energetic spirit, lively tongue and temper are indicated by quick steps. The fast walker is usually a bustling, busy person, a good housekeeper and one who abhors dirt and dust. No tradesman would ever client her, remarks London Tit-Bits. A soft, timid tread is the step of the clinging, gentle woman, who relies entirely upon her husband. She will be essentially "feminine" and dainty. Turned-in toes indicate a preoccupied, absent-minded person. Calmness and reflection are betokened by slow steps, either long or short. A proud and haughty nature is found where the step is measured and slow, with the toes well turned out.

How Tulleries Got Name.

The famous palace of the Tulleries in Paris received its name from the tile yards on whose site it was built. These tile yards were of ancient date, mention being made of them as early as the Thirteenth century. Later they were abandoned and a house was built over them. In 1564 Catherine de Medici began the erection of a royal palace. It was seized by the revolutionists in 1792, in 1830 and in 1848. It was finally burned in 1871 and its ruins were undisturbed until 1898. All that remains of it now are two pavilions, which are joined to two arms of the Louvre. The site of the palace is now occupied by the Tulleries Garden, a popular promenade.

Shrine in the Garage.

People used to have large open fireplaces, and they cooked everything at them and sat about them when they had finished eating. A later period glorified, as the center of home life, the kitchen range, the starting place of all good pie. Now people have steam heat and go to the delicatessen store. The Lures and Penates haven't died. They are immortal. They have only moved out into the little garage with the galvanized tin roof, and people are worshipping them now just as much, lying on their backs tightening the chassis nuts, as when they were gazing at dying embers.—From the New Republic.

Disagree Over Dollar Sign.

Writers are not agreed as to the origin of the sign "$" to represent dollars. Some say it came from the letters U. S., which after the adoption of the federal Constitution were prefixed to the federal currency, and which later, in the hurry of writing, were run into each other, the U being made first and the S over it. The more probable explanation is that it is a modification of the figure 8 and denotes a piece of eight reals, or the dollar, which formerly was divided into eight parts. It was then designated by the figures 8-8.

Square Electric Bulbs.

A scrubwoman standing on a wet floor was recently killed when she touched an ordinary electric light bulb.

RECIPE FOR MAKING DILL PICKLE

Preparing the Brine for Dill Pickles.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Dill pickles are made from fresh or salted cucumbers (the former are choicer, says the United States Department of Agriculture, but the latter have better keeping qualities). Employ pickled dill seed or herb and "dill spice," composed of allspice, black pepper, coriander seed and bay leaves, in addition to the brine.

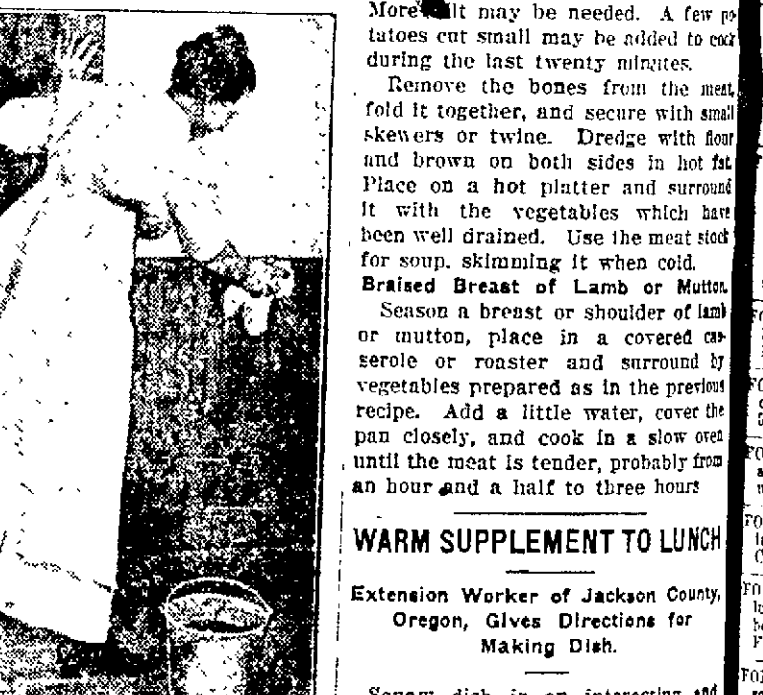

Soak 100 cucumbers in a 30-degree brine (about 15 ounces of salt to 10 gallons of water) until the brine will give an acid test, i. e., turns red when tested with litmus paper (which may be bought at a drug store). Drain and arrange in layers in a crock, putting in a layer of cherry or grape leaves first, then the cucumbers, then a few cloves, the dill, a few small pieces of red pepper and then the leaves. Continue until the crock is full. Cover with the brine which was drained off and to which has been added one-half cupful of mustard seed, one-half cupful of horseradish and one-half cupful of salt. Cover with a light weight and seal airtight with paraffin for winter use.

CARE FOR WOODWORK PROLONGS ITS LOOKS

Unfinished Surfaces Readily Absorb Grease and Dirt.

Unfinished wood surfaces absorb grease and dirt more readily, are more likely to stain and are harder to keep clean than those in which the pores of the wood are filled with varnish, oil, paint, or other finish. In general a house should contain as few unfinished wood surfaces as possible. In the kitchen, for example, labor may be saved by finishing or covering the floor, by covering the table with oilcloth, linoleum or zinc, and by painting or varnishing the rest of the furniture, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

Unfinished wood surfaces may be scrubbed with the grain of the wood, using small quantities of water and a mild soap, rinsed with a cloth wrung out of clear water, and wiped dry. Strong soaps, alkalis and too much water darken wood and may soften it. If the dirt cannot be removed with soap and water. A scourer, such as fine steel wool or powdered pumice, may be used. Unfinished wood can be bleached with oxalic acid solution, which is poisonous. The wood should be covered thinly with the solution, allowed to dry, and then thoroughly washed until all traces of the acid are removed.

If grease is spilled on unfinished wood, cold water should be applied at once, if possible. In order to harden the grease and prevent its spreading, then as much grease as possible should be scraped off with a knife, and the spot scrubbed with a washing soda or lye solution. If the spot appears dark, a paste made of fuller's earth and water should be spread over it and allowed to remain overnight.

Varnished and shellacked surfaces should ordinarily be dusted clean with a soft brush or cloth and polished with an oiled mop or soft cloth moistened with a few drops of light lubricating oil, lemon oil, or furniture polish. Rub in well the oil or polish and remove any surplus with a soft cloth. In general, varnished and shellacked surfaces should not be touched with water; however, if badly soiled they may be wiped with a cloth wrung out of warm, slightly soapy water, wiped dry at once and then polished with oil. The appearance of badly worn, varnished woodwork may be improved by rubbing it with a good grade of floor wax.

Old Salt in Fresh Water.

The master of the salt water steamship Agnes, from Bergen, Norway, refused to accept the aid of tugs to pull his vessel off a sandbar in the harbor of Superior, Wis., where she had grounded. He preferred to wait for the tide and was surprised when it did not come in.

ST. MARY'S TAKES SEVENTH STRAIGHT

Ellenville Quintet Loses After Hard Struggle 15 to 11—Junior Team Downs All Stars 27 to 14.

The St. Mary's basketball squad took its seventh straight contest Friday evening when the Ellenville Wanderers went down to defeat by a 15 to 11 score. The Ellenville quintet made a wonderful showing on St. Mary's court, the score being nip and tuck up until the closing time. Within two minutes of ending the struggle the teams were deadlocked, 11 all. Some clever pass work and two good shots by Noonan accounted for two swift baskets from the floor, giving the home club the winning points.

Traphagen of the visiting team played a smart game both in carrying the ball and shooting. Care playing center for the Saints was the leading scorer with two each, a total of six points.

Due to the Moose Fair, which will be held at St. Mary's hall next week the St. Mary's team will not play its usual home game but will journey to Stone Ridge to play the team representing that place.

In the preliminary game Friday evening the St. Mary's Juniors were also successful, beating the All Stars by a 27 to 14 score. Cashin and Boyle were the leading scorers with seven points each. Cassidy did the best shooting for the losers, registering five points.

Matty Bence was the referee and his work was both satisfactory to the players and fans of both games. The usual dancing was enjoyed following the games.

TUNNEY'S TITLE AT STAKE MONDAY NIGHT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Dec. 8.—Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion, and Harry Greb, middleweight title holder, quit training this afternoon for the clash Monday night at Madison Square Garden. Both are in fine shape according to their handlers.

The fight is the "rubber" of the series. Each has won once. Tunney's title is at stake.

FEDERATION CONDEMNNS FOREIGN-GROWN SEEDS.

A blow was struck against the importation of foreign grown seed for use by New York farmers recently when the New York State Farm Bureau Federation in annual meeting passed a resolution asking the New York State College of Agriculture to follow the example of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and other state colleges by warning New York farmers against the use of seed grown in Europe and South America.

He may persuade the magnates, both minor and major, that a new draft agreement is not only justifiable but expedient, he may prevail upon deaf ears to hear a plea for a more equitable distribution of world's series expenses, he may jam through any and all of whatever remaining reforms he may have in mind. But on the question of umpire control, Messrs. Johnson and Heydler will be like so much granite.

This is one of their few excuses for official existence, and as such, is a most valued relic of an affluent past.

LANDIS CANNOT NAME UMPIRES

Heydler and Johnson Join Forces to Put Curb on Baseball Club's Power—Meetings Next Week.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Having arrived at the conclusion that the imperial arm of Judge Landis has reached sufficient length and individuality, it is said that Presidents Johnson and Heydler, of the American and National Leagues respectively, will stand heel to heel in an attempt to throw off the hood of the figurehead at the baseball meetings here next week. The judge, it is said, wishes to arrogate unto himself the privilege of riding herd over the activities of major league umpires.

It is our information that on this point the judge hasn't the chance of a poor relation.
